 If you smell propane gas, immediately call the Department of Public Safety at 911. *****

Propane tanks may be installed to provide a source of heat and hot water to some non-General Fund facilities. These facilities are located where municipal services are not provided. Propane tanks are normally refilled on an automatic, periodic basis. No action should be necessary on the part of facility users.

The Facilities & Operations department responsible for propane services is Utilities.

Departments must contact Facilities & Operations before making modifications to existing gas piping.

To request service, call the Facilities Service Center at 734-647-2059 or visit requests.fo.umich.edu.

Note: Propane tanks may not be stored in any U-M building. For more information on this topic, please contact the EHS Fire Safety office at https://ehs.umich.edu/living-safely/fire-prevention/.
